Dear Honourable Participant,

On behalf of the University of Johannesburg's Institute for Pan African Thought and Conversation (IPATC), It is my honour and pleasure to Welcome you to our conference "Women's Impact: Innovation and Sustainability in Africa 2024".

IPATC hosts this conference as part of its efforts to advance sustainable economic empowerment for women in line with the SDGs and Agenda 2063. It brings together researchers, financiers, activist, public servants and others from across the world to deliberate on challenges and opportunities for women's financial inclusion and economic empowerment. The exchange of experiences should lead to practical policy considerations on women's innovation and sustainability in Africa. Thank you. I wish you an intellectually fulfilling time.

Yours Faithfully,

PROF. TINUADE ADEKUNBI OJO

Associate Professor Department of Politics and International Relations
Head: Pan African Women Studies Unit,
